

The Commissions of Inquiry Act, 1952

February 20, 2013

INTRODUCTION

Before the enactment of Commissions of Inquiry, Act, 1952, the government ordered public inquiry either by executive notice under the Public Service Inquiries Act, 1850 or by making ad hoc legislation. To meet the ever-growing need for ever-increasing demand for public inquiries by independent and impartial authority the procedure adopted by the government was found to be cumbersome and inadequate. Hence the need was felt that a suitable legislation be brought out on the subject, resulting in the introduction of the Commissions of Inquiry Bill, 1952 in the Parliament.

ACT 60 OF 1952

The commissions of Inquiry Bill, 1952 was passed by both the Houses of Parliament and after being assented by the President of India it became the Commissions of Inquiry Act, 1952 (60 of 1952)

2A. Construction of references to laws not in force in the State of Jammu and Kashmir –

¹ Any reference in this Act to a law, which is not in force in the State of Jammu and Kashmir, shall, in relation to that State, be construed as a reference to the corresponding law, if any, in force in that State.

1. Ins. by Act 79 of 1971, sec. 4 (w.e.f. 30-12-1971).

3. Appointment of Commission –

(1) The appropriate Government may, if it is of opinion that it is necessary so to do, and shall, if resolution in this behalf is passed by ²each House of Parliament or, as the case may be, the Legislature of the State, by notification in the Official Gazette, appoint a Commission of Inquiry for the purpose of making an inquiry into any definite matter of public importance and performing such functions and with such time as may be specified in the notification, and the Commission so appointed shall make the inquiry and perform the functions accordingly.

Provided that where any such Commission has been appointed to inquire into any matter-

(a) By the Central Government, no State Government shall, except with the approval of the Central Government, appoint another Commission to inquire into the same matter for so long as the Commission appointed by the Central Government is functioning.

(b) By a State Government, the Central Government shall not appoint another Commission to inquire into the same matter for so long as the Commission appointed by the State Government is functioning, unless the Central Government is of opinion that the scope of the inquiry should be extended to two or more States.

(2) The Commission may consist of one or more members appointed by the appropriate Government, and where the Commission consists of more than one members, one of them may be appointed as the Chairman thereof.

³(3) [Note: Ins by Act 79 of 1971, sec.5.] The appropriate Government may, at any stage of an inquiry by the Commission fill any vacancy which may have arisen in the office of a member of the Commission (whether consisting of one or more than one member).

(4) The appropriate Government shall cause to be laid before ([Note : Subs. by Act 19 of 1990, sec 2, for certain words.] each House of Parliament, or, as the case may be, the Legislature of the State), the report, if any, of the Commission on the inquiry made by the Commission under sub section (1) together with a memorandum of the action taken thereon, within a period of six months of the submission of the report by the Commission to the appropriate Government.

(i) It is essential that formation of opinion by the State Government as to Appointment of any Commission of Inquiry depends on its subjective satisfaction based primarily on an objective or real material and not merely on some vague allegations or hearsay evidence or to make fishing enquiry, State of Madhya Pradesh v. Arjun Singh, AIR 1993 SC 1239.

(ii) Since the appointment as Commission of Inquiry does not necessarily require the qualification of a sitting judge of High Court subsequent of such appointment does not invalidate it, Sardar Malkeet Singh v. State of U.P., AIR 1993 All 343.

(iii) Just as a Commission appointed in pursuance to a resolution passed by the State legislature (or, as the case may be, the House of People cease) to exist on a resolution for discontinuance being passed by the appropriate House, similarly a Commission appointed in pursuance to the direction of the court shall cease to exist or discontinue with the government exercising its power under Section 7 of the Act only with the concurrence of such court. Directions of such court to the government in this behalf are in no way usurpation of latter's power/ discretion. The powers in this regard of State Government and State legislature to constitute commission are independent, State of Orissa, Janamohan Fay, AIR 193 Ori 180.

(iv) Even though it is the discretion of the appropriate Government to set up a Commission under this section, the court can not be silent spectator to deteriorating conditions in the government run hospital and the miserable plight of the patients who, by and large, come from poor and weaker sections of the society. The court can intervene and appoint Commissioner (s) to go into the matter and submit their report (with suggestions of remedial measures to be taken). Thereafter, the court after giving due opportunities to both the parties, it may give such directions as it deems proper in public interest to such appropriate government, Siddha Raj Dhadda v. State of Rajasthan, AIR 1990 Raj 34.

(v) Since the Commission appointed in exercise of executive power was 'unacceptable' as it suffered from fundamental infirmities on account of faulty, scrappy and untenable inquiry, there was nothing unreasonable & mala fide on the part of the government in appointing a Commission under this section of the Act, specially in the light of persistent and fervent demands for a further and deeper enquiry, R. Balakrishna Pillai v. State of Kerala, AIR 1989 ker 99.

(vi) By reason of non -placing of report of Commission before the legislature within the time limit prescribed by the relevant provision of this section, such report is not rendered void and the Government is not precluded from acting upon it especially when the legislature has not disapproved it, V. Narayana Rao v. State of A.P., AIR 1987 AP 53.

(vii) Petitioners in a public interest litigation have no legal or statutory right to compel the government to appoint a Commission of Inquiry even if there is a definite case of public importance, nor can the court, in such cases, issue directions to the government in that behalf, People Union for Democratic Rights v. Ministry of Home Affairs, AIR 1985 Del 268.

(viii) Fixation of Conference Hall of Inspection Bungalow of Kerala State Electricity Board as venue of sitting of commission appointed for inquiry against erstwhile Minister for Electricity was held to be in noway adversely affecting a fair and proper inquiry, S.V. Purushothaman v. State of Kerala, AIR 1983 Ker 118.

COMMENTS

(i) The ambit of this section is too wide to be circumscribed by fetters of stage and its available to and exercisable by the Commission in calling any person concerned including those governed by section 8-B of this Act as witness irrespective of stage of inquiry, Smt. Kiran Bedi and Jinder Singh v. Committee of Inquiry, AIR 1989 SC714.

(ii) As the Commission was not supposed to undertake any elaborate inquiry, criticism of Commission for not having made thorough investigation due to scarcity or paucity of staff cannot be sustained in view of powers of Commission under this section, V. Narayana Rao v. State of A.P. (FB), AIR 1987 ap 53.

(4) The Commission shall be deemed to be a civil court and when any offence as is described in section 175, section 178, section 179, section 180 or section 228 of the Indian Penal Code (45 of 1860) is committed in the view or presence of the Commission, the Commission may, after recording the facts constituting the offence and the statement of the accused as provided for in the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898 (5 of 1898), forward the case to a magistrate having jurisdiction to try the same and the magistrate to whom any such case is forwarded shall proceed to hear the complaint against the accused as if the case had been forwarded to him under section 482 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898.

COMMENTS

(i) A Commission even though adopts a procedure of legal character and has power to administer an oath, is incapable of delivering a 'definite judgment' making it 'unfit' for the status of a court, particularly for the purposes of section 195 of Code of Criminal Procedure, 1974; Dr. Baliram Waman Hiraj v. Mr. Justice B. Lentin, AIR 1988 SC 2267.

(ii) The Commission does not enjoy the status of an adjudicating body and its inquiry is neither judicial nor quasi-judicial in nature. It is a civil court by fiction of law, for only limited purposes enumerated under the relevant provision of this section; Md. Ibrahim Khan v. Susheel Kumar, AIR 1983 AP 69.

Neither the copies of statements made by witnesses before the Commission could be supplied to the accused as prayed for nor the Report of the Commission could be summoned being of no evidentiary value in such trial, owing to restrictions contained in this section of the Act. (2) Every notification issued under sub section (1) Shall specify the date from which the Commission shall cease to exist and on the issue of such notification, the Commission shall cease to exist with effect from the date specified therein.

COMMENTS

If in the opinion of the Government the Commission had collected sufficient necessary material for an effective and expeditious examination by an expert officer for making necessary decision(s) and thus, further continuance of the said inquiry was wholly unnecessary, there was no malice or influence of collateral considerations in the exercise of its discretionary power by the Government to discontinue the said inquiry; State of Gujarat v. Consumer & Education Research Centre, AIR 1984 SC 652.

1. Subs. by Act 79 of 1971, sec. 10, for section 7 (w.e.f. 30-12-1971).

Comments

Sub section (2) does not cover reconstitution of Commission by replacement or substitution of existing member. It only deals with an eventuality, such as decrease in the number of members, when the original number is more than one, and the vacancy remains unfilled, State of Madhya Pradesh v. Ajay Singh, AIR SC 825.

1. Ins. by Act 79 of 1971, sec. 12 (w.e.f. 30-12-1971).

If witnesses otherwise satisfy the requisite conditions of this provisions so as to come under its ambit, they have to be examined at the end of the inquiry and not at the beginning thereof, irrespective of the fact of issue of notices to them which conditions is definitely not an essential ontemplation under this provision, Kiran Bedi v. Committee of Inquiry, AIR 1988 SC 2252.
